Subject "Deutsche Wochenschau," new German/English publication and its editor Martin BAUMGARTEN.

Made by D.S. Pitts Forwarded by Gilmore D.S.P.

Forwarded herewith is the second and last issue of "Deutsche Wochenschau." Its editor, Martin BAUMGARTEN, apparently realised that with this issue the publication was doomed to financial failure, consequent upon which his partner, Dr. von MIORINI, withdrew his support.

Baumgarten left Shanghai on December 11, 1936 for Hankow and Canton in an effort to seek more congenial employment. Should be return to Shanghai his activities will be made the subject of a further report.

Subject "Deutsche Wochenschau," new German/English publication and its editor Martin BAUMGARTEN.

Made by D.S. Pitts. Forwarded by J Boyne D S I

I forward herewith a specimen sample copy of "Deutsche Wochenschau," a new German/English four-page newspaper that is scheduled to make its initial appearance locally in the early part of December, 1936. It will be non-political in tone and will devote its columns to topical news and illustrations.

It is not being supported or subsidised by any local official German organs, which maintain that the Ostasiatischer Lloyd as a newspaper, is sufficient for the needs of the German community here.

The editor and publisher of "Deutsche Wochenschau" is a German, Martin BAUMGARTEN, born at Freiburg, Breisgau, 36 years ago. He is not a Jew. Associated with him as a sleeping partner in this journalistic venture is Dr. von MIORINI of the Medhurst Apartments. Baumgarten, who has enjoyed no previous newspaper experience, hopes to make money through the medium of advertising matter which will appear in his publication, some 500 - 1000 copies of which will be printed when the thing is in full swing. He is now residing at House 13, Lane 24, Ward Road.

The last four years have seen him in the role of a travelling adventurer, unsuccessfully endeavouring to make a living in Shanghai, Harbin, Mukden, Tientsin, Fusan, Manila, Java, Bangkok, Hongkong and Kobe in hawking photographs and wood-cuts. As recently as November 13, 1936, he was, according to the Shanghai Nichi-nichi, expelled from Japan for the abduction of Japanese females. Baumgarten arrived in Shanghai on November 14, 1936 on the "Nagasaki Maru" from Kobe where he admits that he was detained by the police authorities for one night and then placed by them on board the steamer in question. Baumgarten's version of his expulsion from Japan - which is probably more correct than that appearing in the Japanese daily - was that he was compelled to leave by the police owing to the fact that he was one month behind in the payment of his hotel bill and that he was without means of subsistence.

Several complaints have been received by the German Consular Authorities here from their colleagues in the Far East vis-a-vis Baumgarten's mode of soliciting charity from various benevolent organisations, and in general he is regarded by them as an adventurer or "cheap crook."

His political convictions are such that will apparently not cause the Police any trouble. He states that he is not a follower of Nazism or a member of the party, but on the other hand is not inclined towards communism, although to use his own words....."...in German circles you must be one or the other....there is no in-between...."

He is in possession of German Passport No. 9/34 issued at Bangkok on March 13, 1934.

General observation will be maintained regarding his movements and his newspaper, which, i. should be mentioned, will be published weekly, and anything of interest from a Police point of view, will form the subject of a further report.

Frauen und Kinder aus Madrid abtransportiert

MADRID, November 22. — (Reuters). —Um unnötige Gefahren für die Civilbevölkerung zu vermeiden und die Verpflegung der Einwohner und Truppen zu erleichtern, hat das Verteidigungskomitee Madrids die zwangsweise Räumung der Stadt von der Civilbevölkerung angeordnet.

Erfolge der Loyalisten.

MADRID, November 22. — Havas berichtet, daß die Loyalisten das Universitätsgebäude (Casa Velaquez) im Norden Madrids zurückerobert haben. Die Einnahme hat strategische Bedeutung, gleichwohl das Gebäude der Universität durch die Beschießung vollständig zerstört worden ist.

Vor der Beschießung Barcelonas

PERPIGNAN, November 22. — (Reuters). — Eine große Zahl Reisender traf hier von Barcelona ein wegen der Ankündigung General Francos, den Hafen zu beschießen. Man fürchtet, die Bombardierung Barcelonas steht unmittelbar bevor. Der französische Konsul hat angesichts der drohenden Gefahr alle französischen Staatsbürger angewiesen, die Stadt zu verlassen.

All Non-Combatants To Be Sent From Beleaguered Madrid

MADRID, Nov. 22.—(Reuters).—Both to avoid unnecessary risks to the civil population and to reduce the difficulties of provisioning the inhabitants and troops, the Defense Committee today ordered the compulsory evacuation of all women, children and non-combatants from Madrid.

Loyalists Recapture Area

MADRID, Nov. 22.—(Havas).—Loyalist forces have now completely recaptured Casa Velaquez, French-owned building in the University City on the northwestern outskirts of Madrid, Havas special correspondent, M. Christian Ozanne reports.

The capture is of strategic importance, but the building itself is now little more than a mass of ruins, as it burned almost to the ground following intense bombardment reports.

Bombarding Of Barcelona Feared Near

Many Evacuation In Face Of Threat By Franco

PERPIGNAN, Nov. 22.—(Reuters).—Large numbers of travellers have arrived here from Barcelona, having withdrawn because of the threat made by General Francisco Franco, the insurgent generalissimo, to bombard the port.

Some of the travellers expressed fears that the bombardment was imminent.
